

Swedish Swiss Chamber of Commerce

SSCC Newsletter 2 | March 2016

The Swedish Swiss Chamber of Commerce is a networking organisation for companies and individuals, all of whom are interested, or engaged in, trade between Sweden and Switzerland.

The history behind the SSCC

The Chamber was formally inaugurated on 7 May 2008 in the presence of executives of the Chamber's 15 founding patron companies, board members and advisory board members.

It all started a year earlier by an initiative taken by Mrs Birgitta Arve, Swedish Consul in Zurich, and Mr Per Edholm, Swedish Consul General in Lausanne. They had noted that while there are nearly 50 Swedish Chamber of Commerce's around the world, and almost one in every European country, still no Swedish Chamber existed in Switzerland, despite the fact that our two countries have extensive business and social relations with one another.

The SSCC started off small but grew very quickly to one of the fastest growing chambers in Switzerland. Today, the SSCC have over 220 members.

Why become a member of the SSCC?

Oil seminar with Thina Saltvedt - 12 April in Lugano

The lower oil prices have had an immense pressure on the exporters' economies and the recent development in the oil market suggests that oil producers will agree on a production freeze and then later a production cut. Have we seen the bottom of the oil price?

In cooperation with Nordea International Private Banking, we are pleased to invite you to a seminar with Thina Saltvedt who has global responsibility for the macro oil/petroleum research in Nordea Markets.

Atlas Copco Innovation Story - Reliably sweet

Switzerland is known for its chocolate, watches and snow-capped mountains. The country's sole sugar producer has plans to sweeten that list. At the heart of the process is an Atlas Copco single stage vapor compressor that's been running for almost 30 years.

The machine increases the pressure and the temperature of the steam in the system, which can then serve as the heating medium for the liquid being formed by the existing vapor. The low need for fuel consumption is directly related to the function of the mechanical vapor compressor. Read more here..

Does English really matter? The English Margin - WHAT LANGUAGE MEANS TO A BUSINESS' BOTTOM LINE

In May 2015, EF Education First commissioned Redshift Research to survey 510 directors or managers of international businesses with more than 1,000 employees. Our aim was to find out how much, in financial terms, it matters to your customers that your people speak good English.

Growth is a primary concern for almost all business leaders. Can English skills help? Resoundingly yes, according to our research.

Business customers would be willing to pay 16% extra to a supplier with a high level of English proficiency. Read more here..
