Patron in the spotlight

A new breakthrough for Cavotec's automated mooring technology

Lugano-headquartered global engineering group Cavotec has successfully completed a series of demonstrations of its innovative MoorMaster™ automated mooring system for ship-to-ship mooring, in what is yet another breakthrough for this uniquely innovative technology.

Cavotec's MoorMaster™ is an automated vacuum mooring technology to control vessel movement and eliminate the need for conventional mooring lines. MoorMaster™ units typically deploy and detach in less than 30 seconds.
